Message to the Students

This administration and faculty believe in the students of this institution; this administration and faculty believe in the inevitability of change; this administration and faculty believe in the importance of teaching as a social force; this administration and faculty believe that this institution is entering a new era of greatness. Our best days are ahead. The contribution that this faculty and the students will make to the world of education will be only as significant as we believe contributions can be. We are on the threshold of an era of tremendous opportunity and challenge. We will not be able to move into the demands of a space age future if we attempt to drag along with us the anachronisms of a past that have no validity for tomorrow.

M. W. Andresen, Dean
University of North Dakota

Ellendale Center

"...Section 216...An industrial school and school for manual training...at the town of Ellendale, in the county Foreword of Dickey..." North Dakota Constitution 1966 Snitcher (UND-Ellendale Center) Ye Digitally Prepared by the Coleman Museum

Since its beginning in 1899, this institution has kept pace with the progress of education. This progress is evident from a review of the names which it has borne.

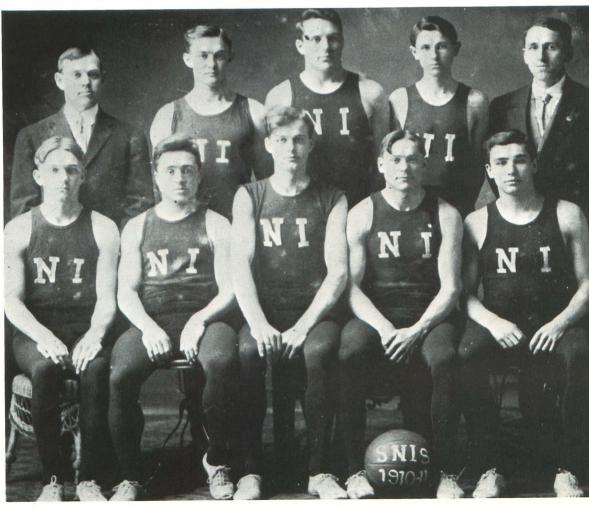

1899: State Manual Training School

SMTS identified the baseball team who surrounded a fellow student from Company A.

From the Industrial School and School for Manual Training with three departments, this institution evolved into the State Normal and Industrial School in 1907 by adding an Elementary Education Department.

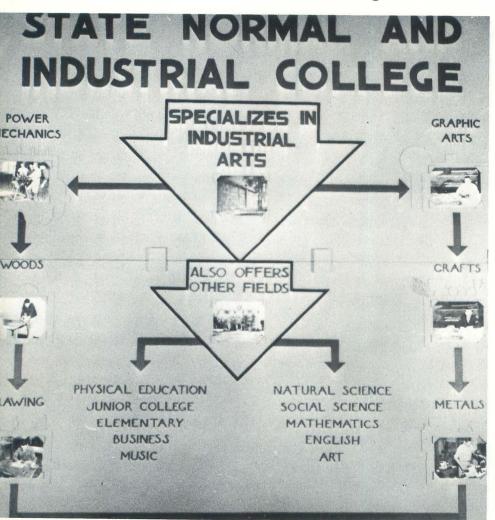

1907: State Normal and Industrial School

SNIS on the ball identified this basketball team coached by P_{\bullet} A. Cooley of the Commercial Arts Department.

Advancement continued and a new name was warranted in 1945--still N-I but now a college instead of a school.

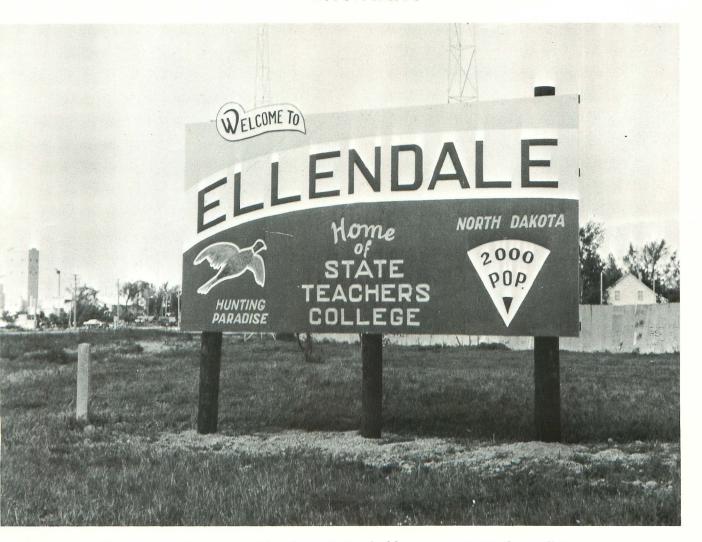

1945: State Normal and Industrial College

A typical poster that advertized the college status of the institution but still showed the emphasis was on industrial arts.

1960 brought "a new name, a new concept": State Teachers College at Ellendale with a reorganized curriculum designed primarily for preparing teachers. It had grown to its present academic stature of 12 departments.

1961: State Teachers College at Ellendale

The town proudly announced that the institution had become a state teachers college.

This year marked full development, as university status resulted from affiliation with UND and so another name: University of North Dakota - Ellendale Center.

1965: University of North Dakota Ellendale Center

Illustrated with a painting of Carnegie Hall, signs along the highway now display the newest name of this institution.

They contemplate the future; Merton Andresen for the institution of higher learning at Ellendale as Acting Director; William Guy for the state of North Dakota as governor.

Association of Women Students

Organized in 1966, this governing body aims to foster unity and school spirit. Every woman student is a member with the opportunity to assist with the formulation of policy regarding women students. Class representatives that wrote the proposed constitution were Esther Brennecke, senior; Mary Ann Bollinger, junior; Mary Sizer, sophomore; and Cheryl Grom, freshman.

A candle-lighting ceremony was used to signify now influence is passed from member to member. Cheryl Grom and Mary Sizer (standing) held their lighted candles while Mrs. Wallace passed the light to Sandy Gery, AWS representative of Northern State College. Mrs. Redlin and Mrs. Stinson enjoyed refreshments.

Mrs. Moore offered to take the dishes from Lois Picht, Dean of Women from Northern, and Esther Brennecke, UND-EC senior from Pottstown, Pennsylvania. Dean Picht provided the demonstration lecture on AWS functions. She was assisted by officers of the Northern State College AWS.

Industrial Arts Club

Sponsored by the first and finest department, this club is the current organization of the one started in 1913 called Mechanic Arts Society. A special emphasis in this department by J. C. McMillan, president from 1936 to 1954, resulted in several separate clubs being formed for auto mechanics, form mechanics, and mechanic arts. In 1939, these were reorganized into the present club.

Members, Seated: Mr. Tietel, V. Saulino, J. White, J. Hausmann, Mr. Paler; Standing: C. Hay, N. Dathe, A. Nishek, P. Yunick, J. Gusaas, G. Hoffman, J. Schumacher, T. Kallenberger, J. Eifler, D. Members, Standing, Back Row: H. Wolff, M. Sizer, C. Kosel, K. Huether, N. Ziebart, M. Bollinger, M. Bentson; Front Row: M. Swaner, J. Robb, S. Schlecht, E. Brennecke, N. Warner; Seated: Mrs. Kabrud (adviser), C. Rall (vice president), L. Malm (president), C. Bentson (secretary-treasurer).

Student National Education Association

Sponsored by a department that was added in 1907, this organization is the only nationally affiliated one on campus. Its forerunner was the Normalian Junta organized in 1937 by O. E. Combellick who headed the education department from 1913 to 1949. Reflecting the spirit of service which characterizes those who choose teaching for a profession, this group has consistently been of service to its members through worthwhile programs and to the institution through its participation in college activities.

The officers, pictured at left, have the distinction of leading a group that has been active since 1937 when it was known as Sixth Year Players under the direction of Clara Ingvalson, in the English department from 1928 to 1958. In 1946, when this institution attained college status, the group adopted the name N-I Players. This name became obsolete in 1961. At that time, the present name was selected. College administrators and student groups, as well as community organizations, rely on this group for lighting, staging, and volunteers.

Women's Recreation Association

Officers of this group, pictured at right, promote the physical activities of all women students. Ever since 1916, when Mecca-for-Pep was organized, there has been organized athletics for girls. A reorganization in 1937 changed the name to Women's Athletic Association. In 1960 this group adopted its current name.

Choraliers

Collegiate Choir

Sixty-seven voices were directed by Mr. Breske and his assistant, Mrs. Law. Officers were L. Schumacher, president; G. Medenwald, vice president; P. Yelkin, secretary-treasurer; D. Vick and D. Klipfel, representatives. Row 1: L. Smalley, M. Bollinger, J. Schimke, E. Schliep, C. Ryder, K. Daniels, E. Pahl, J. Robb, J. Gackle, B. Franz, M. Merkel; Row 2: I. Redlin, N. Ziebart, B. Dixieland Band

Garbed in gay coats and straw skimmers, this group appeared at many performances. Regular members are R. Ackerson, W. Brown, J. Gackle, G. Koppelman, L. Krause, G. Medenwald, D. Schimke, L. Trautmann; alternates are W. Bauer, C. Gackle, G. Meyer.

Organized in 1904 as a military band by E. R. Mosher, commander of Company A and re-organized in 1915 by E. W. Ackert, the band appeared in military dress until 1922 when the legislature abolished Company A. Band members wore civilian attire until 1950 when they are described by the Snitcher for that year as being dressed like "a bunch of admirals," in the blue and gold uniforms that are still worn by the marching band. Although the uniform committee had been appointed in 1941, the 1942 Snitcher explains that the "...defense stamps and bonds drive came along..." Mr. Ackert set a record as band director. He retired in 1948 after 40 years of service. He was succeeded by W. B. Myrum in 1949 to 1955 when C. W. Christian directed both vocal and instrumental until 1961.

Concert Band

The flutist tries a note before the band performs at a tour stop in an area high school gym. Facing Mr. Breske, Row 1: M. Bollinger, L. Trautmann, G. Koppelman, W. Kertzman, L. Krause; Row 2: M. University Impromptus Organized in 1964 by Marcia Sizer, this folk-singing group has been chosen as an alternate for the 1966-67 USO overseas tour. This year's leaders have been Duane Kaiser, Melvin Michealis, and Judy Schock. They have appeared at Guelph, Forbes, Gackle, Aberdeen, Grand Forks, Jamestown, and the area high schools which were included in the annual tour, as well as many appearances on campus and at community functions.

Spring semester singers were, Row 1: M. Michealis, D. Breitkreutz, L. Schumacher, D. Schimke, J. Bertsch, B. Remboldt, J. Schock, D. Klipfel; Row 2: D. Crabtree, W. Brown, G. Hoffman, K. Huether; Row 3: B. Redding, L. Haas.

Kneeling: J. Schock, K. Jury. Standing: D. Crabtree, J. Schimke. On Top: Elaine Pahl.

Cheerleaders

Alternate, Denise Thompson, sets the pace for a cheer at the football game.

Calling themselves the Dustmops, the cheerleaders mopped up the Dusties during a pep meeting in the fieldhouse.

College Republicans

Organized during the spring semester, the College Republicans will provide a balance for the political activities on campus. Their foremost aim is to get political speakers to come to this campus. The local organization will be a chapter of the national GOP.

Young Dems

With no formal meetings this year, the group did not elect officers. Mr. Groth agreed to be the faculty adviser. Political activity has been slow. Key people graduated or transferred, leaving the group with inexperienced leaders.

Chess Club

Alumni Association

The keenest interest for this institution is held by this group which extends beyond the campus to all levels of education and many fields of industry. Officers are elected at annual meetings held during Homecoming. The board of directors, pictured below, met on Saturday afternoon in the faculty conference room following the football game. Current officers are Charles Taskerud, Garth Zieman, Harris Voegeli, LaRoy Bobzien, Leo Houghton, William Hample, and Alden Lewis. They are joined by Isabel Vick in the picture below. Alden Lewis was not present.

Row 1: W. Schlabsz, commander; F. Feichtner; D. Rehovsky; G. Wahl; Gary Coon, social chairman; Row 2: P. Johs, secretary-treasurer; H. Haakenson; D. Smolnisky; D. Folden; Row 3: D. Griffin; G. Jakober; B. Reiter, vice commander; E. Reiter; N. Selzle.

Vets Club

First organized in 1945, this group is restricted to veterans of the armed services. After several years of inactivity, it was reorganized in 1964. The adviser this year has been Dr. Farrell, with several of the meetings held in his home.

Officers: L. Koppelman, vice president; L. Jankowski, president; W. Kertzman, secretary-treasurer.

Student Wives

Organized through the efforts of the Faculty Dames, the club set membership requirements as follows: all married women students who live on campus and attending full-time. The maximum age was set at thirty at the time of joining.

Members, above, display the new jackets.

Carol Bobzien was elected sweetheart of the fraternity that has been active since 1959.

Delta Alpha Pi

Officers, Seated: Terry Ulmer, secretary; Mr. Berg, adviser; Warren Aafedt, president; Andy Schweitzer, vice president; Doug Groth, treasurer.

Officers of the newly-organized fraternity are Gary Hoffman, treasurer; Charles McMillan, president; Darrell Klipfel, vice president; James Bertsch, secretary. Mr. Blumer is the adviser.

1966 Snitcher (UND-Effen

Digitally Propagatory the Coleman Museum, 2017

According to early volumes of the Snitcher, there has been a student newspaper for more than 40 years. Until 1962, it was the En Aye. That year Arden Smutzler submitted the winning name of El-O-Quent so that the name change of the institution would be reflected in the publication. And now, in 1965, another name change.

Yearbook Staff

During the sixty-six years that this institution has existed, this is the twenty-seventh yearbook staff to make an attempt to capture life as it is lived on a campus. Each member of that staff that contributed to this volume had a chance to record history. However, all contributors do not get listed as staff. Using our editorial perogative, we are going to mention some of those who contribute without expecting recognition.

Malcolm Goddard - for offering his wealth of fine photographs.

Duane Shilman - for searching his files for the negatives of students who "forget" to sit for the class pictures; also, for making prints upon short notice as the deadline approaches.

Bertha Brown - for her amazing recall of names and faces when the task of identifying someone has us baffled.

Ted Ketterling - for recognizing the historical value of old photos and $\underline{\underline{Snitchers}}$, and depositing them with us rather than burning them.

Alma Mater

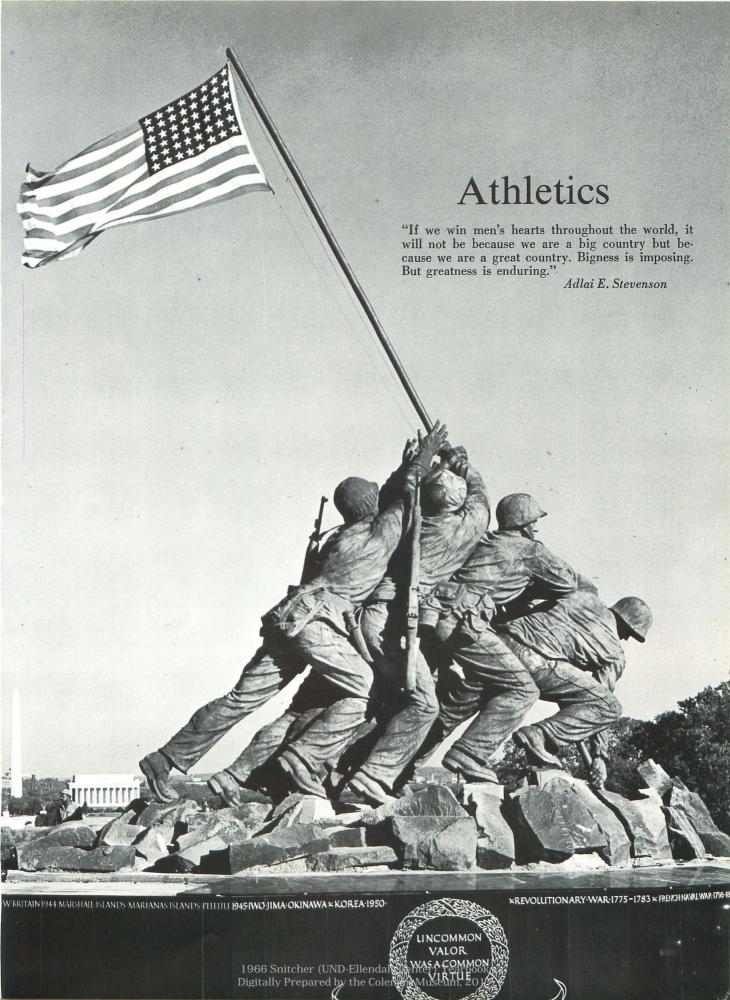

Here's to UND at Ellendale, You're the school we love the best; With your colors gayly flying, You have always stood the test. When we leave you,
We believe you will always keep your standards high;
And we will show you
how much we owe you,
We'll always boost for you
when we're alumni.

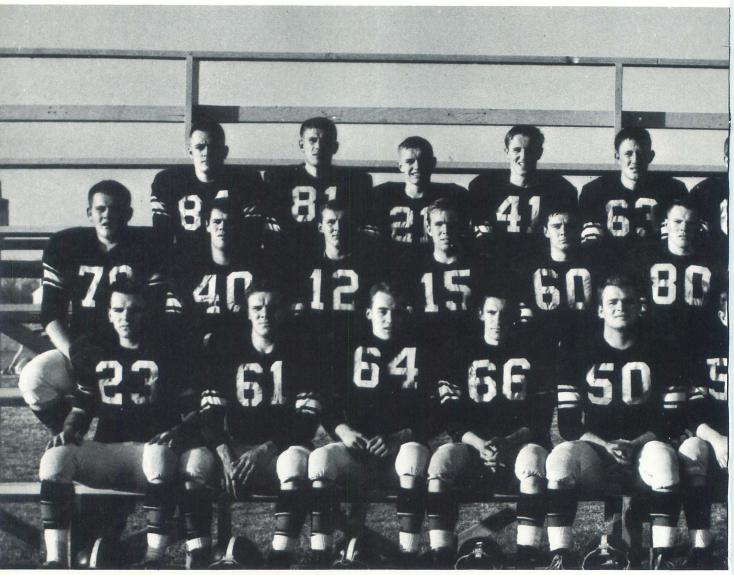

UND-EC Fight Song

Fight ye Dusties, mighty
Dusties,
You're a winner all the way;
Proudly robed in
blue and golden,
Victory is yours today;

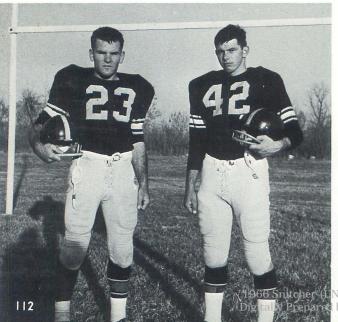

When we're near you,
we will cheer you,
For you will always stand
the test;
No need denying, you're really trying,
You are the college team
that we love best.
